WOODLOT FORESTRY.

Simple Directions for Caring for the Wood Supply on the Farm.

Every Farmer May Have Permanent Timber Supply for Future Use.

Throughout a large portion of the Eastern States nearly every farm has its woodlot. From that woodlot, which is often all that remains of the vast forests which originally clothed the region, the farmer gets his own needs, furnishes him with fence posts, rails, poles, and even with timber, boards, and shingles to keep the farm buildings in repair. A well managed woodlot is therefore a very valuable part of the farm, and the sum total of all farm woodlots represents a very large national asset.

The U. S. Forest Service has for some years devoted special attention to the needs of woodlot owners. Its cooperation offered to all who would have advice on the management of woodlots, and many thousands of acres of farm forests are now actually cared for under practical systems of forestry which it has recommended.

As a general rule, but little care is devoted to the woodlot. It is left to shift for itself, is often used too freely for the pasture of live stock, and is rarely guarded from fire or forest enemies. When wood is needed but little discretion is exercised in the choice of trees, and no need is felt of providing for the renewal or improvement of the stand.

Yet it is a decidedly simple matter to care for the woodlot. The owner need not burden himself with any very elaborate system. Nor need he, in most cases, reduce the amount of timber which he cuts. Eventually, of course, he can cut more, for more will be grown. The first requirement of the ordinary woodlot is protection, and the second, selection in cutting.

Fires are the chief enemy of the woodlot. Fire, damaging the largest trees, pollutes the timber, or destroying them until they begin to die in the tops, reducing their value when cut; but the greatest harm is done to reproduction and the growth of young trees. Running over the forest soil, they consume the litter and kill the seedlings. The forest soil becomes too dry to encourage the germination of tree seeds. Even if seedlings succeed in finding root and begin to flourish, the next fire destroys them.

Fires may easily be kept out of the woodlot with little care. They are often started to improve the grazing and pasture. This is certainly poor policy. While the grazing may be improved for a few years, the wood-lot is often permanently injured. It is generally a poor plan to expect land to produce grass and wood at the same time. Neither will do well, and the owner will be paying taxes on land which he only half uses.
Grazing animals often do much injury to the woodlot. They eat young trees and damage them down. They also pack the soil with their hoofs, destroying its power to retain moisture and encouraging the entrance of grass. Grazing should be watched, and should be permitted in the woodlot only when such harm will not result.

In cutting, the first thing to look out for is the young growth. The whole point of forest management is to have new trees of the most useful kind take the place of the old, just as soon as possible after the old is cut.
One of the first rules of the ax will get rid of a fine sapling half the size of a man's wrist, if it is a little in the way, and a dozen years of growth is lost. On the other hand, the cutting of a good tree may simply open room for worthless trees to take its place.

In some regions care must be taken not to permit the crown cover to become too open. In a good forest the soil will be soft and moist, and this soil condition is essential if the trees are to have the maximum growth. To keep the ground to the sun dries out the young growth as though by fire, while the trees tend to become bushy if they stand too far apart.

Past neglect has produced many woodlots in which the healthy trees of the best kinds are choked with unsound and dead trees and trees of inferior kinds. For such cases improvement cuttings are needed. It will pay to spend the time and labor necessary to remove the dead, crooked and diseased trees, together with the weed trees, so that the remaining stand may be composed of good timber trees in sufficient number, under conditions favorable for their best developments. This can be done gradually, as the material can be utilized.

When once the improvement cutting has brought the woodlot into business like shape, further operations should be made with a view to reproduction and a lasting supply. Care should be taken in felling, working up, and hauling out wood, to do as little damage as possible to young growth. If reproduction is to take place, the seed must be properly scattered of seed trees must be considered.

Where the woodlot is composed mainly of such trees as oak and chestnut, which sprout well from the stump, it may be advisable to cut most of the good-sized trees, over a part of the woodlot, for the purpose of raising a crop of sprouts. Such sprout grow rapidly and produce good poles, posts, and ties at a comparatively early age. But the stumps should be cut low and slanting, so as to prevent rotting and secure strong and numerous poles.

There are a number of thinning systems, some of which may suit the requirements of one woodlot but not those of another. By a careful reading of Bulletin No. 42 of the Forest Service, entitled "The Wood-lot," the owner can familiarize himself with these and choose which one his woodlot and observation suggest is the best. Or, should the owner desire a special plan for the management of his woodlot, he should make application to the Forest, U. S. Department of Agriculture, for the cooperation of the Forest Service.

JOINED HER LOVER.

Suicide of Miss Ruby Ross, of Richland Country.

Miss Ruby Ross, of the Richland community, and a member of one of the best families there, committed suicide at her home last Thursday morning by blowing out her brains.

A month ago Jack Wyatt with whom she was in love and Robert Jones, another suitor, fought a duel over her at Beulah school house and Wyatt was killed.

Since then on several occasions she had declared her intention to join her lover.

The following statement was found among the effects of Miss Ruby Ross who recently committed suicide:

"Thursday, Nov. 23, 1905. This day I die. I can not live owing to what has been done I never knew what trouble was until my dearest lover was shot and had to die from the wounds of the fatal gun in the hands of a cruel man, who will have to suffer for this terrible crime, for it being nothing more than cold-blooded murder. It was not done in self-defense as was the precious boy, was armed not at all, and had no way not time to defend himself in any manner until he lay shot and bleeding upon the ground with three pistol wounds in his previous body. Now this is why I die I can not live without him who has gone on before. Now I do not want you all to grieve for me, for I am going to rest with the one I love dearest than I do my life. That is why I die Now give Ethel Wyatt my watch, which was the request of a precious one gone on before and by me also. If I live after this shot I want Mr. Wyatt's family at my bedside, and Aunt Martha and Bro. Clark to preach my funeral. You all know where my grave is to be—close as the dearest lover as it can be gotten, and be put in the same pen-As that is all I can think of. I will say good bye to one and all forever. I'll be as one that loves the departed dearest than life, as that is why I die.

"N. B. If you have a heartseget the one that Bob was hauled away in. This being my last request. I wish my father and mother were at home. Good bye, good-bye."

NO VIVI VOCE VOTE FOR KENTUCKY.

Official Vote Overwhelmingly Against Change of Present System.

Frankfort, Ky., Nov. 27.—Notwithstanding the strong Democratic advocacy of a return to the old open ballot system of voting, Secretary of State Mc-Chesney's returns show ninety-four counties reporting 94,449 against and 55,578 for the vivivoce constitutional amendment.
This will be the lawful result, as the law requires the election commissioners to certify the result today. The counties not reporting to this time will be recorded as unofficial. The vote has been certified to Secretary of Election Commission Phillips, and will be attested by the State Board.

Acted Suspiciously.

Sunday night a little after dark Mrs. Y. Q. Walker noticed a man acting in a suspicious manner in the alley between her residence and that of Jeff Murphy.
He was in a crouching position and seemed to be watching something some one in Murphy's house.
Mrs. Walker called to her husband who came out, but by this time the man had apparently disappeared. Mrs. Murphy came out the back door by this time and Mrs. Walker said to her "there was a man watching you through the window and as you went from one room to the other he crept along the fence following." By this time Mrs. Walker had gotten out over the lane and almost ran over the man who was still hidden by the fence. Of course she screamed, Mrs. Murphy also screamed and her husband ran out in the yard and asked the man what he wanted there. He made no reply and kept standing. Murphy then said to his wife "go and get my gun and I will find out what he wants." The stranger said "Oh I don't think there will be any shooting done here. Don't get excited, there is no harm done," and walked off up the road. No one has any idea who he is, what he wanted or where he went.

self, bringing your sunny manners, happy smiles and Xmas

The annual Thanksgiving service at the M. E. Church, South, will be very interesting and it is to be hoped that a large crowd will attend. Rev.
King will preach a short, appropriate sermon. All are requested to bring an offering of thanks, of any amount they feel justified in giving.

A certain little girl became possessed, all on one day, of a baby brother and a puppy. The puppy was of a valuable stock. A week passed and the puppy had been named "Scott," while the baby was still unnamed. The minister, happening to meet the little girl on the road one afternoon, asked her how it was that the puppy had a name and the baby had none. "Why, Scott has a pedigree," said she.

Although not yet perfected, the Majorama telephone bids fair vastly to extend the field of usefulness of the long-distance telephone by rendering audible vibrations too faint to activate the receiver of the ordinary telephone or even the microphone instruments.

COL. HINDMAN RESIGNS.

W. B. Haldeman Asked to Accept Place Political Complications.

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 28.—Notwithstanding the strong Democratic advocacy of a return to the old open ballot system of
voting, Secretary of State Mc-Chesney's returns show ninety-
four counties reporting 94,449

Big Edition.

Advertisers will do well to take advantage of the Christmas edition of THE BEE, to be issued on Dec. 14th. This edition will consist of 24 or more pages, including the illustrated front page, which will be a beautiful picture of the "Nativity" in colors. The other pages will be filled with local, general and foreign news, illustrated short stories and verse suitable for the holidays.

There will be 3000 papers issued, which will be equal to 9000 pages of THE BEE's regular size.
This edition will come out just in time to catch the Christmas shopper, and advertisers will make no mistake by buying space in this paper. It reaches over eight thousand people, who have regular work, draw good wages and, consequently, have money to spend. Put an advertisement in THE BEE and watch your business increase.

Special Service.

The night service at the Christian church next Sunday will be devoted to the interests of the Christian Woman's Board of Missions. A special program has been prepared consisting of singing, scripture reading, prayers and short papers. At the close an offering will be taken which is to be devoted to building and equipping a boy's dormitory at Morehead Normal, one of the Kentucky mountain schools sustained by the Christian Woman's Board.

McNARR-PETYON.

Mrs. Hettie McNarr and Mr.
Lee Peyton, both of this city, were united in marriage at the Northern Methodist parsonage by Rev. Dame at 2:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs.
J. M. Kissenger and is a well known young lady. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Radie Peyton and an employee of the St. Bernard Mining Company.

Receives Call to Madisonville.

Hopkinsville, Ky., Nov. 27.—The Rev. J. M. Jones, assistant pastor of the Baptist church of this city, has received a call from the Baptist church at Madisonville, and he will probably accept, as the salary offered is a handsome increase over the one he receives here and the call is in the nature of a material advancement in church work.

Died at Barnsley.

Sampson Platt, an aged citizen of Barnsley, died at that place Tuesday morning of Bright's disease. He was formerly employed by the St. Bernard Mining Company, but has for several years been unable to work.

NISBET-MILLS.

Prominent Young People Wed.

Walter J. Nisbet, of Providence, and Miss Emma Mills, of Madisonville, were married in Madisonville Monday afternoon at the residence of the bride's parents on North and Main streets.

They are both well known young people, Miss Mills being a daughter of Mr. J. R. Mills, a prominent business man of that place.

The groom is one of Webster county's prominent and influential citizens who has for a number of years been president of the Providence Coal Company. He is a son of W. A.
Nisbet, of Madisonville. Rev.
McCaull, the Baptist minister of Providence, performed the ceremony in the presence of the family and a few invited friends.
The happy couple left on the 4 o'clock train for their home in Providence.

Opened.

Misses Minnie Rich and Hallie Clark came over from Madisonville last Monday evening pretending to spend the night with Mrs. Mary Stone. After supper a merry crowd assembled around the fireside with music and singing. In a short time Misses Rich and Clark were missing and did not return. It was discovered next morning that Mr. Charles Johnson drove over from White Plains the night before and took the ladies to Nortowne and took the train there for Illinois where Mr. Johnson and Miss Rich were married. The happy couple returned to the groom's home at White Plains Wednesday. The groom is a prominent business man of that section. The bride is a charming young lady of Madisonville and has many friends there. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Rich and a granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Polk Merrill. Their many friends extend congratulations.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT.

of God our friend, and brother, James G. Ward, was called to eternal rest, on the 17th day of November 1905.

First. That in his death the lodge has lost a worthy brother; his home a kind husband and loving father; the community an honorable and upright citizen.

Second. That as members of the Golden Coss we tender to his bereaved family our heartfelt sympathy.

Third. That a copy of these resolutions be spread on our minutes, printed in the Earlinton Bee and a copy sent to the bereaved family.

Cloren-Farquhar.

James Cloren and Miss Fannie Farquhar, both of Earlinton were married at the residence of Rev. Dame at this place Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock by Rev. Dame, the Northern Methodist minister.

These young people are well and favorably known here. The bride is a daughter of Thos.
Farquhar and the groom is an employee of the St. Bernard Mining Company.

In Arizona Indian children may be seen catching ants and eating them, and in Mexico the honey ant is eagerly sought after by the natives

GRANGE AGAINST LABOR UNIONS.

Patrons of Husbandry Against Fixing an Eight Hour Day.

Atlantic City, N. J., Nov. 28.

—Before adjourning sine die this evening the National Grange Patrons of Husbandry adopted a resolution declaring "That we, as American citizens, believe it is every man's privilege to work as many hours as he wills for pay and that energy, thrift and activity are entitled to encouragement, and should command rightfull compensation for services rendered." This is taken as a direct aim at labor unions which fix on eight hours for a working day, and may mean a contest between the farmers and organized labor.

Miss Alpha Bea Entertains.

A party was given Friday night, Nov. 24, 1905, at the home of Miss Alpha Bea, 306 Cumberland ave., Howell.

The home was beautifully decorated, red and green being the colors, and cut flowers. Oranges and bananas served as refreshments. The young ladies present were Misses Mirtie Kelley, Mamie Gilbreath, Annie Kelley, Lillia Clark, Esther Cox, Ethel Schemil, Dora Morse, Lola Yearwood, Mamie Kelley, Addie Smith, Rose Newman, Annie Bobb, Mamie Braher, Georgia Yearwood and Nellie Shields.

The gentlemen present were:
Messrs. Walden Gilbreath, Walter Yearwood, Carless Wright, Edgar Kelley, Garland Hartman, Oriss Wright, Frank Edmondson, William Dickman, Dillion Bonnaberger, Ed Russler, Robert Clark and Messrs. Kelley and Centry.

Fire at Henderson.

The city of Henderson was visited by fire at an early hour Saturday morning and the livery stable of J. T. Hopewell and a blacksmith shop owned by Alex Henderson were destroyed before the fire was extinguished. Considerable damage was done to several other buildings. The estimated loss is about $7,000 with no insurance. Five horses together with a number of hacks, wagons and vehicles in the stable were burned. The fire originated in the rear of the stable and is believed to have been of incendiary origin.

Thanksgiving Thursday.

The fact that Thanksgiving day has nearly always been held on a Thursday is curious, but there seems to be no real explanation of the fact except that of custom. This Thursday thread might, a thousand years or so ago, have been explained as some sort of step toward prop-riation of Thor, the Thunderer, whose day it is, but the American holiday hardly runs back far enough to admit of such explanation.

First Thanksgiving Dinner.

The first Thanksgiving dinner was celebrated in this country 277 years ago at Plymouth, Mass. The whole American army was present. It numbered 20 men. Miles Standish, the backward lover of Priscilla, sat at the feast while Priscilla served at the tables.

An Error.

In last week's BEE it was stated through a typographical error that the amount of insurance carried by Ed. Tanner in Ben Hur Lodge was $220. This should have been $2,250.00.

with thirty or more experiences in cutting teeth.

MAN KILLS WIFE AND CHILDREN

Most Brutal Murder Ever Committed in History of Eastern Iowa.

THE FIEND UNDER ARREST— HIS SANITY IS QUESTIONED.

Killed Mother With Hammer and Knife, and Then Called in Children One at a Time—Slew the Baby and Placed It in the Dead Mother's Arms.

Des Moines, Ia., Nov. 28.—Mrs. William McWilliams and her five children, ranging from three years to 16 years of age, were found murdered at their farm home, six miles south of Independence, Ia. The husband and father, William McWilliams, is under arrest at Independence, charged with the crime.

Most Brutal on Record.

The murder was the most brutal in history of eastern Iowa. Evidence showed that he had been killing for a long a period, for when the bodies were found, food was on the stove cooking. She had been killed by blows of a hammer, and her skull was terribly crushed; then she had been savagely attacked with a knife. All the members of the children, had evidently been called in one by one and murdered in a similar manner, for all wore clothes that indicated that they had been at work in the house just before death. The baby, not three years old, was found still wearing a hood and mittens, and had in its hand a piece of buttered bread. One blow of the hammer had sufficed for it, and then the murderer laid it in the dead mother's arms.

Only Evidence of Strangulation.

The only evidence of a struggle was found in injuries sustained by the 16-year-old daughter, her hands were badly lacerated where she had apparently clutched at the murderer's knife.

The mother was discovered by a milkman named Saunders, who stopped at the house to get milk. When officers reached the house no trace of the husband could be found, but an abandoned car, his clothes, was found, and his body was found.

Coolly Told of the Murder.

Later it was learned from a rural mail carrier that McWilliams had been seen on his way to Independence, and that he had coolly told the carrier that he had killed his wife. He then came into Independence by a circuitous route, and was not found until evening.

McWilliams denies his guilt. He will be examined as to his sanity.

BABY'S AWFUL ITCHING ECZEMA

Sores All Over Face and Body— Could Not Tell What She Looked Like— Unable to Sleep—Grew Worse Under Doctors.

CURED BY CUTICURA IN ONE MONTH

A grateful mother, in the following letter, tells of another of those marvelous cures by Cuticura: "When my baby was four months old her skin broke out with a humor. I took her to a doctor, who said it was eczema. He gave me medicine to give her, but she kept getting worse and worse. Then I found Cuticura would cover it with some medicine scales you could not tell what she looked like. No child ever had a worse humor. Her face became catatonized, and even her finger nail fell off. Then it itched so she could not sleep, and for many winter nights we could not get no sleep. At last we got Cuticura, and I found it at first bathing her in warm water with the Soap, and then spreading on the Ointment with soft cloths. I saw her improve in a week. The humor began to heal, and she could sleep at night, and in one month she had not one sore on her face or body. Any mother having children with eczema or hives will find a friend in Cuticura Soap and Ointment. (signed) Mrs. Mary Sam, 109 Spring St., Camden, N.J. Aug. 14.

The foregoing statement justifies the oft-repeated assertion that Cuticura Soap and Ointment is the instant relief and specific remedy for babies for tired mothers, and points to a speedy, permanent, and economical cure, when all else fails, in the most torturing cases of eczema, hives, hives, bleeding, scaling, crusty, and pimply skin, and scalp humors.

Cuticura Soap, Glycerine, and Ointment are sold throughout the country. For sample and price, send 10c and a postage stamp for "How to Cure Baby Humors."

THURSDAY, NOV. 30, 1905.

The free use of the deadly revolver upon the least suspicion of trespass or burglary by night is constantly attended by unexpected and deplorable fatal results. One of the latest incidents is the probably fatal wounding of Joe West, of Hopkinsville, by his sister who fired into the darkness to frighten a supposed burglar. More care and less shooting is required for the safety of the human family.

Gov. JEFF DAVIS, of Arkansas, has distinguished himself again by having a fight in his room at an Arkansas hotel. Revolvers and a big cane figured in the scrap. Hugh Dimmire, a former Congressman, was the other principal in the affair. Both men were knocked on the head, consequently neither was much injured and both live to fight again.

Schoolboys at the town of Fairview, in Christian county, got up an unusual strike last week and refused to carry any more drinking water to the schoolhouse. If this had occurred in a county of distilleries it might have been inferred that the boys were brought up on a strong beverage and didn't know the full uses of plain water.

COLUMBIA UNIVERSITY is the first to pass a life-preserving resolution against football. The game has been abolished so far as Columbia is concerned and cannot be played unless the rules and practice of the game are radically changed.

Bryan and Grant.

W. J. Bryan's attempt to buy the sacred war stool from a noble Japanese family, as a souvenir of Admiral Togo, has brought upon him much criticism at the hands of Japanese newspapers. This action was composed the other day in Earlinton, by a gentleman who has traveled in Japan, on an incident in the life of Gen. U. S. Grant. The General was being accorded every possible honor by Japanese potentates, while he visited the empire. Approaching a certain temple were two bridges; one for the common people, the other for the royal families exclusively, and no other foot had ever profane his polished members. Gen. Grant was offered the exclusive honor, on account of his high rank, of crossing this bridge, but he steadfastly declined to do which would violate Japanese traditions or laws.

VALUABLE INFORMATION

Each man has a chance in a lifetime to reach the point of success, and this opportunity is offered in Arkansas and Louisiana, the three greatest agricultural and timber States, traversed by the Iron Mountain Route, where land can be purchased at from $3.00 to $20.00 per acre, that is productive of from $400.00 to $1,000.00 per year, in cotton, corn, hay, sugar cane fruit and vegetables. The returns from alfalfa growing in this district have proven a record breaker—six crops each year or six times per acre—$12.00 per acre for market, which is gained.

All that is necessary is for the homeseeker or investor to look over the situation personally, as the country spans the entire State. On the third Tuesdays of each month home-seekers' tickets are offered at rate of one fare plus $2.00 for the round trip. For full details write to St. Louis. Free reading car ears.

A LIFE SAVED

READ THIS LETTER FROM A GRATEFUL KENTUCKIAN

Princeton, Ky., Feb. 4th, 1905
I wish to state for the benefit of Evansville, Ind., that I believe their great Remedy, F. C. Stone, has saved my brother's life. Some ten years ago he was troubled with a blood disease, and I got no help for him. I heard of Foerg's Remedy some time manufactured by this company, and I got some. He was immediately relieved of his trouble, and when he died I could say he was saved. Well, at that time I also saw a sign of that disease, and I got some of that Remedy, and it was much beneficial to me.

THE CENTURY FOR 1906

Mrs. Ward's New Novel Begins in the November Issue and Will Run Several Months.

The lavish promises of a year ago were splendidly fulfilled in The Century during 1905—Its verse and essays, its pictures and illustrations, its articles and its editorials, all in their permanent value, went beyond all promise and expectation. The feast in 1906 will be even greater than in 1905.

Humphry Ward, "Fenwick's Career," a new humorous serial by the creator of "Susan Clegg," and short stories by such writers as the popular writers of the day. There will be authoritative accounts of such world-wide work as our consuls and the Peace Commission.

S. Ward will tell of "Saving California's Crops." The director of the Royal College of Agriculture, Prof. L. H. Bailey, will discuss the important problem of the young man and the farm. There will be many more articles of high kind and value and interest. "Lincoln the Lawyer" and the law career of Lincoln has been neglected, in the opinion of authorities like President McKinley and Prof. H. Jones. H. C. Hill has established an article still in this phase of Lincoln's life and of the life of the Illinois lawyers and officers of the Illinois Historical Society; and his series of articles will be rich in new and valuable material. Pictorially The Century will be more beautiful in 1906 than ever before. Howard Chandler Christy's pictures of the life of Lincoln, in full color, will be one of many features. It will contain the cream of the best American literature, art, and thought.

Immediate subscription brings the first chapters of Mrs. Ward's new novel and the beautiful November number.

Rochester, N. Y.

Perhaps his most winning quality with young and old alike was his sincere belief in his fellow townsmen and their community. Local pride never had a more buoyant champion than he. For him Sangamon county in general, and New Salem in particular, was the proudest, land, and he was confident that the people were equal to the task of developing it according to its needs. Thus when it was first suggested that the shallow, back-bound Sangamon River was navigable and might provide a great highway of commerce, he eagerly championed the theory and worked with voice, pen and hand to realize a practical result. The Sangamon is still unnavigable and New Salem has disappeared, but Lincoln's plea for improving the waterway remains as evidence of his sincere belief in the future of the community and to show us what he could do with a weak cause at the age of twenty-one.

The argument is not remarkable, but it is exceedingly interesting and suggestive. Although he was a young boy and unlettered, Lincoln did not overstate the possibilities nor underestimate the difficulties of his case; and despite the really laughable attempt which was afterward made to force the passage of the Sangamon, there was nothing ludicrous in his plea.

What he claimed sounds reasonable, and what he hoped for possible, even in the face of failure.

This early effort plainly indicates Lincoln's natural aptitude for logical statement. But it does more than that. It displays a trait which few lawyers possess; for the ability to present facts clearly and concisely and effectively while taking into consideration of them is a rare legal quality. It requires not only ability, but courage; not only tact, but character. It is one of the infallible test which distinguish the legal brains from the jurist, and it will be demonstrated in a future chapter that Lincoln fulfilled it in masterful fashion.—From Frederick Trevor Hill's "Lincoln the Lawyer" in the December Century.

Great Victory Sale!

BEGINS

Friday, Dec. 1st. Ends Saturday, Dec. 9th

FOR the past year the prices on all raw material has been steadily advancing—advancing until today they have reached the highest notch we have ever known, cotton selling around 12 cents per pound, and the cotton king of New Orleans says the cotton crop will go under 10 million bales with a sure price of 15 cents per pound. Green hides are selling at 17 cents per pound in Chicago. We know of a prominent manufacturer that sold a warehouse full of tub-washed wool at 72 cents per pound, satisfied with his profits without turning a wheel in his factory. All this means higher priced dry goods, higher priced clothing and higher priced shoes. New York clothing, cloak and ladies' suit makers and Boston Shoe builders are all in a flurry. Today they price you an article and tomorrow they refuse to take your order at any price. In spite of these conditions, by persistency, hard work and close bargain driving, our buyers, who have just returned from New York and Boston, have gotten together the greatest array of SPECIAL BARGAINS we have ever offered in a sale. This will truly be your VICTORY SALE over STAR FLIRTING VALUES and the march of high prices.

Our Christmas Gift to the Poor.

It has been the policy of this store to offer only new and dispensable goods in our sale. It is this that has made our sales so attractive. The remnants and out of style goods such as other stores make the basis of their sales, we give away. At our last sale we threw these goods into the street from the house-top. We kept faith with the people, but we did not find this the most desirable way of disposing of these goods. So many people who were not ready by reason of their strength got the most of the goods, while the poor and the needy and for whom they were intended got pushed aside and so got but little or nothing. We are again going to give away this accumulation, but we want it to go to those who are deserving and not able to buy.

We have about one hundred good warm wraps (capes) accumulated. We will give one of these to any deserving widow or orphan girl who will bring us a written certificate from the minister living nearest her that she is deserving and needy. Only one wrap to a family, so as to make them reach as many people as possible. We have about one thousand remnants in good calico, just the kind that is sold everywhere at a price to boost sales. We will give ten yards of this to any needy widow and five yards to each child. These goods will be given absolutely free as long as they last and you will be under no obligation to buy a cent more than you would have given them from the house-top into the streets. ONLY YOU MUST HAVE THE CERTIFICATE.

Blankets.

The success of our woolen mill at Springfield, Tenn., where all of our fine blankets are made, is something wonderful. Although it has only been built about two years, the Springfield Dulin blanket is known by all dealers in fine blankets as one of the very best. Already our entire production for 1906 is contracted for. In no way could they have gained this enviable reputation except we never permitted a pair to go to the trade unless absolutely perfect. Of course we have a great many blankets with slight imperfections, so small that you would probably never see them. The imperfect blankets have been put in this sale at $3.98.

Hats.

A big lot of Men's Hats will go in this sale at nearly half price.

MINING NOTES.

Mt. Sterling, Ky., Nov. 27.—W. R. Bliss, of New York, has taken an option on 12,000 acres of mineral lands in Pike county, and will organize a company to develop same. They will open a number of new mines and several coke ovens. Mr. Bliss states that New York and Eastern capitalists will spend a million dollars developing lands in Pike, Johnson and Floyd counties within the next twelve months.

Foreman Thos. Longstaff, of the Shamrock mine, at Providence, spent Sunday with his family in this city.

Joseph Olivered died at his home in Henderson, Ky., Wednesday, Nov. 15th, after an illness of several months with malignant cancer of the face. The deceased was formerly an employee in the mines at this place. He was foreman of the Henderson Manufacturing and Mining Company's mine for several years. He was 55 years of age at the time of his death.

Official announcement has been made by Eugene Zimmerman, president of the Detroit, Toledo and Ironton railroad, that his road would construct a line 125 miles in length within the next 18 months from Ohio to the Eastern Kentucky coal field. It is said that $30,000,000 will be involved in the project. Mr. Zimmerman and his associates own acre of coal land in that section of the state and the proposed railroad is constructed it will develop a territory rich in natural resources. Hundreds of men will be given employment when this field is developed.

Henry Magenheimer, of Graham, is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Magenheimer, of this city.

Henry Jones has accepted a position as night watchman at the Hecla mine.

Another record made by a machine runner. This time in the St. Charles mine, where Dink Shad Owen cut five rooms in three-quarters of a day. The St. Charles mine also boasts of having loaded 82 cars on the 27th instant, containing 1117 tons, the total output for that day amounting to 1150 tons including engine and furnace coal.

Roy Brownings was the victim of an accident at the coke ovens Thursday afternoon from which he fortunately escaped serious injury. He was caught between a slack car and one of the supports of the washer and crushed through the hips. He is able to be out on crutches and will be off duty several weeks.

The fan house at the Hecla mine was destroyed by fire Friday night. The origin of the fire is unknown.

The Providence accommodation made a trip to this place Sunday with coal from the mines on the branch. These shipments from the mines are getting very heavy of late.

Electrician Nin Gordon was in Hopkinsville several days this week on business.

Jas. Kelly, a driver in Hecla mine, was on the sick list a few days this week.

The condition of Chas. Miles, who has been ill so long, shows slight improvement.

Tine Ashby, of Arnold mine, has been suffering from a severe attack of rheumatism for several weeks.

HAD PASSED CENTURY MARK

Henry Michaels, Aged 101 Years, an Eastern Illinois Pioneer, Found Dead at Mattoon.

Mattoon, Ill., Nov. 25.—Henry Michaels, 101 years old, a pioneer resident and the oldest man in eastern Illinois, was found dead in bed here.

He was born in South Carolina and came to Illinois in 1836. He was the first pioneer and settled in the triplex between Springfield, Ill., and Portage, Wis., when Indians still roamed the prairies.

Comments From Secretary Wilson.

Washington, Nov. 28.—Commenting on the discovery and stoppage of the leak in the statistical branch of the department of agriculture, Secretary Wilson says it has been done vigorously, but he sees no evidence of a regular or preventive action at the rear end of the line.

THE NORTHWEST SWEEP BY STORM

Havoc Created By One of the Worst Storms of Recent Years.

MANY DISASTERS ON LAKES

Lake Superior, Lake Huron and Lake Michigan swept by regular Hurricanes, Reaching Over Sixty Miles an Hour.

Duluth, Minn., Nov. 29.—In one of the most terrific gales in the history of the great lakes, even surpassing in fury the terrible storm of last September, in which so many vessels lost their lives in the vicinity of the Apostles, three big steamers were driven ashore within sight of the light house at the Duluth entrance to the local harbor, and several members of the crew of one of the boats, the Matatia, are believed to have perished.

The wrecks are the Crescent City and the Matatia, of the Pittsburgh Steamship Co. and the R. W. England, owned by the England Transportation Co. of Cleveland. As soon as interrupted telegraphic communication with other vessels was reestablished, it is expected that further reports of wrecks will be received. For 13 consecutive hours, between 11 o'clock Monday night and 12 o'clock Tuesday, the velocity of the wind averaged 60 miles an hour, and at times blew at the rate of 70 miles an hour. The Matatia is believed to have run aground to port. The crew of the Crescent City escaped, but the boat is a total wreck. Capt. R. W. England is the only man who left the England. The vessel is lying on the sand and is in no danger of going to pieces. The captain was taken to Duluth by the life boat crew with the help of the breeches buoy.

May Be a Fatal Week.

Unless the wind abates before morning the Matatia will be a total loss. The Matatia's accident was the most unfortunate of the three. She struck the north pier of the harbor and became fast, while the Crescent City was unable to get through the canal. She swung around and ran aground just north of the pier where the waves are sweeping completely over her.

ON LAKE MICHIGAN.

Conditions on the West Shore the Worst Seen in Fifteen Years.

A terrible gale and high wind storm in many years has prevailed on the great lakes, causing much damage to shipping and other property. Lake Michigan, on this shore, was a mass of foam, while the water was driven high on the beach and against the rocky banks south and north of Milwaukee. On Lake Michigan, the waves reached a velocity of 40 miles an hour.

The government lighthouse and fog signal building at the end of the Milwaukee breakwater pier was battered by the high seas, and the assistant keeper, William Foster, was rescued with difficulty by life savers. The entire east wall of the fog signal building was smashed in by the waves, which, according to Foster, were the worst he had ever seen in 15 years' experience on the lakes.

The big steamer Appomattox, coal boat which went ashore seven miles north of this city several weeks ago and was later abandoned, was battered to pieces.

Wreckage strews the shore of the lake from Lake Park to Whitefish bay.

THE WIND HAS FALLEN.

The Forces of the Storm Spent and the Situation Improved.

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 29.—Lake Superior, the Michigan and the upper peninsula of Michigan, the upper lakes Huron and Michigan and the northern counties of lower Michigan have been swept by a terrific wind and snow storm and a number of shipping accidents have been reported.

The blizzard which with a velocity of from 40 to 60 miles an hour, and all the horrors from Port Huron, on Lake Huron, and from Sault Ste. Marie, north on Lake Superior, are filled with vessels which have run aground.

Sault Ste. Marie reports that the wind has subsided to 12 miles an hour, and although the weather has fallen, the weather situation is regarded as greatly improved. All boats on the lower end of Lake Superior are supposed to have weathered the storm in safety.

Scores of craft are dead in the St. Mary's river and in the vicinity of Whitefish Point, waiting for clearer weather.

PROBABLY ALL LOST.

The Matatia Broken in Two and the Crews Have Probably Perished.

Milwaukee, Nov. 29.—A steamer from Superior, Wis., says: "Life savers have been unable to get the crew of the wrecked steamer Matatia. The boat has broken in two, but the crew are still out of water. It is thought that 26 men have perished to death, as there is no sign of life on board.

Nineteen Vessels Lost.

Chicago, Nov. 29.—Reports received by midnight show that 19 vessels were wrecked in the storm which swept over the great lakes Monday night and Tuesday. One life is known to have been lost, and it is feared eight others have perished as a result of the storm. Six vessels are reported missing.

LOCOMOTIVE BLASTS

Origin of Railway Whistles.

Locomotives, seventy-five years ago, had no whistles. The engineer kept by his side a tin horn, which he blew before curves and dangerous crossings.

But the noise was too feeble. In 1933 an English farmer's cart was run down on the way to market and 1,000 eggs, 100 pounds of butter, two horses and a man were lumped in one great omelet on the rails. The rail way had to pay the damages.

The President sent for George Stevenson, the inventor of the locomotive, and said angrily:

"Our engineers can't blow their horns loud enough to clear the tracks ahead. You have made your steam do so much why don't you make it blow a good, loud horn for us?"

Stevenson pondered. An idea came to him. He visited a musical instrument maker and had constructed a horn that gave a horrible screech when blown by steam. From this horn the locomotive whistle of today descends.
